Scouting The Shops

with Sally

● John is feeling pretty glum today but it really isn't our fault. All we wanted him to do was join in the Fiesta fun like the other men are doing.

● We had been uptown buying groceries and were feeling very pleased with ourselves anyway on account of all the lovely bargains we had unearthed—jumbo cucumbers from Westlake Market, cantaloupes from Daly City Cut Rate, Liberty olive oil from Lucca Ravioli's, a can of Swift's 'Prem' from Robertson's Egg Store, fresh youngberries from Farmer's Market—

● Then, too, town was very gay and exciting with dashing cowboys and popguns and such. People were streaming in and out of Warshawski's with bright shirts and cowboy hats, and of course it was only natural that we should want John to be a Hero of the Old West.

● John's hair is beginning to thin out on top of his head and he always has a slightly worried look behind his spectacles. When he saw us come in loaded with Fiesta trappings he looked even more apprehensive than usual.

● "Darling," we said enthusiastically as soon as we had untangled ourselves from our packages, "everyone is shooting up the town for the Fiesta. Everyone's going Western. Where are your whiskers, John?"

● "Now listen here, Sally," said John quickly, "if you think I'm going to make a confounded fool of myself—and besides," he added diplomatically, "that swell new razor you bought me from Edwards Drug store hasn't had a good work-out yet."

● "Edwards is selling bandanas and cowboy hats this week," we retorted. "How do you think your family feels when you walk down the street in just a plain old business suit—"

● "Beeson cleaned it just last

Spiced Gem Turn-Over Cake Is a Dessert to Win Appetites

—By BETTY BARCLAY—

Canned Hawaiian pineapple gems, bright maraschino cherries, brown sugar and gingerbread mix find perfect affinity when baked together as an upside-down cake.

AN EMERGENCY pantry shelf stocked with canned Hawaiian pineapple gems, which are luscious spoon-size chunks of fruit, maraschino cherries, ready-to-mix gingerbread and brown sugar holds the key to a delicious upside-down cake that can be prepared in the twinkling of an eye. For a very festive occasion whipped cream makes an attractive garnish for this spiced gem turn-over cake.

SPICED GEM TURN-OVER CAKE

¼ cup butter
⅔ cup brown sugar
1—14 oz. can Hawaiian pineapple gems
12 maraschino cherries
1—14 oz. package prepared gingerbread mix

Melt butter in the bottom of an 8 x 8 x 2" cake pan. Add brown sugar and stir until dissolved. Place drained pineapple gems in alternate rows in the sirup. When the sugar is hardened enough to hold the fruit in place, pour in gingerbread which has been mixed according to directions on package. Bake for time and at temperature indicated on package of gingerbread mix. Loosen cake from pan with a spatula and invert on a large serving plate. Serve warm.

Yield: 6 servings.

Maybe Thar's Gold In Your Whiskers

"Thar's gold in them thar whiskers, Brother, but you'll have to register at Henry Warshawski's today if you want them to pan out for you," So spoke the old prospector, as he looked over Daly City's fine crop of face foliage.

Prizes have been put up for the best sets of whiskers, large or small, stubby or long, and the contest will be judged at 7 p. m. Friday in front of Warshawski's Dry Goods store, local headquarters for Fiesta gear.

Men planning to enter the contest should register immediately or if unable to register in advance, are urged to attend the judging event tonight.

week," said John defensively. "And I'll even send my hat if you like—"

● This stopped us for a second, but only for a second.

● "Yes, and the New Process Laundry did a beautiful job on your boiled shirt, too," we told him. "But did you ever see a cowboy wearing a boiled shirt?"

● "Now look, Sally," pleaded John, nearly choking on an orange he was eating from Colma Pioneer grocery. "Weren't we going to the Daly City theatre Saturday night? They're giving away a new Bendix washer. You don't want me to look like a bum, do you?"

"All the other men are growing whiskers," we repeated firmly. "I noticed when I passed the Hilltop Lodge that everyone else is in Western clothes. You want them to respect you at the Hilltop Lodge, don't you darling?"

● John muttered something inaudible into the beard that wasn't there. We sweetly offered him a piece of chocolate cake from Geneva Bakery and ignored the stormy atmosphere.

● It was not until late that

LOOK lady! with JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

Doleful dirge number one in the feminine world is the complaint —"I have to do all my own dirty work. I can't afford laundry service. I don't soil all the things around our place but I have to wash them all."

While in this mood, few women realize they are thinking of the cost of having all their soiled things finished by hand at the laundry. Of course, that is a de luxe service and one that many women feel they can't afford.

But, since laments and tears won't help, why not find out about the different services available at your laundry? For thousands of women this one gesture in the name of freedom from washing has proved to be the best handkerchief in the world for drying those tears.

Services now offered by laundries are planned especially for your happiness and convenience. You'll find them really kind to your needs and your pocketbook.

Probably the most popular of the laundry services is the damp wash which returns your things beautifully clean but still wet enough for ironing. Colored things are wrapped separately to avoid fading onto white articles just as they are separated during the whole washing process.

Women who work during the day and keep a home in their so-called leisure hours, will find one of the two following services gives them the time and desire for recreation . . . without robbing them of the money required for pleasure.

One service returns all the household linens smoothly ironed, bath towels and wash cloths beautifully soft from their fluffing, wearing apparel damp and ready for ironing. The other is exactly the same except wearing apparel is sent home dry instead of damp.

Shirts may be sent with any of these services and completely finished at the laundry for very little extra money.

While these are the lower priced services, the laundry doesn't cut corners in the quality of the work. Actually, you simply pay for the service you have and don't pay for the part of the work you do yourself.

Of course, there are other services, too, but these are the most popular among average homemakers who've found a way to turn wash-day tears into a more gracious and modern mode of living.

1940 Ice Follies Revue Draws Capacity Houses

Opening before a capacity house which continued its spectacular attendance, the Ice Follies of 1940, latest edition of the famous musical revue on ice, is now playing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco.

Production is the keynote of the new "Ice Follies of 1940." The opening number "Arctic Fantasy," best exemplifies the new order of the Ice Follies of 1940. The curtain raiser combines two ensemble groups, a comedy group, a comedy single and a spectacular double into a production number that runs almost 15 minutes.

Complete with a setting of the far North of igloos, "Arctic Fantasy" offers the Aurora Borealis and ensemble of 12 ballarinas, the Northern Belles another group of 12 in a musical novelty, the Snowman and the three Polar Bears, an unobtrusive comedy bit in rehearsal that developed into one of the hit spots of the show, Ruby and Bobby Maxson as the "Babes in Northland" and Les Hamilton, Ice Follies comic, cast as Miss Snowflake.

Other features in the production have been enlarged and elaborated upon. Spectacular Evelyn Chandler is featured in "Dude Ranch" along with a mixed twelve garbed in true western style. Shipstad and Johnson have gone collegiate in "Collegiate Capers."

The skill of Bess Ehrhardt and Roy Shipstad in ballroom dancing on skates, presenting the tango, the rhumba, the fox-trot and the waltz, all done on flashing blades, is set off by the Top-Hatters, in a number called "Manhattan at Midnight." Later Miss Ehrhardt is the central figure of "Melody in Motion," an episode which presents the full force of the Ice Follies ensemble of 24 in a distinct novelty offering.

In the first Washington definitely declines a third term, gives reasons, and acknowledges a debt of gratitude for the honors conferred upon him and for the confident support of the people. In the second, more important part, he presents, as a result of his experience and as a last legacy of advice, thoughts upon the government.

Neptune's Racecourse

Package Receiver

A package receiver, installed in the wall of the kitchen, is a useful but not costly feature which adds considerably to the comfort of the family and to efficiency in the home. It has a self-locking door which opens outside and is insulated and ventilated. Another useful feature in the home is a laundry chute, particularly for homes with basement laundries and second-floor sleeping quarters. They are installed in the walls and have vertical shafts which permit soiled clothes and linen to be dropped directly to the laundry.

Beginnings of Kindergarten

Maria Montessori, the Italian educator, studied at the University of Rome and graduated in medicine in 1894, being the first woman in Italy to do so. She then took up the subject of educating defective children. From the experience thus acquired, she came to the conclusion that similar methods might be applied to normal children of a lower age, and after a series of experiments on a small scale she extended them to a large number of children in private and public nursery schools in Rome. Her ideas on education have been set forth in several books which have been widely translated.

evening that he made one more attempt to ward off his fate.

● He had been down at the Stan's Standard Station having the car repaired, and when he came home Sammy approached him.

● "Say, Dad," he cried waving a paintbrush, "I bought a can of red paint from H. H. Smith. How about painting 'Ride 'Em Cowboy' on the old family bus?"

● John sent an anguished look in our direction, ordered Sammy out of the room and sat down to talk it over.

● "Now look, Sally," he said earnestly, "I'm just not the cowboy type. Let's compromise. I'll buy some Mohawk gasoline from Wisnes Super Service in honor of the Old West, a quart of whiskey from Vireno's Market, and we'll tune in on the cowboy dances every Saturday on our new Zenith radio from Byrne's. But I draw the line at whiskers. I draw the line."

● But we knew and John knew that his case was lost.

● It was three days before the whiskers began to really show up. To tell the truth, they made John look more like a jungle hobo than a rider of the range. Still we felt that it was a moral victory, as we told the men down at Carr's Service Station while having our own car checked.

● It was this morning that disaster befell. John bought a bottle of hair tonic from a traveling salesman that smelled like pure alcohol—the hair tonic, we mean, although so did the salesman for that matter.

● John rubbed his whiskers with it thoroughly and resentfully. Then he sat down and took out his pipe.

● "Now look here, Sally," he began, lighting a match.

● But he never finished. At the first spark of the match, John's entire beard burst into flame. A puff of blue smoke and it was gone.

● We're not mentioning the Fiesta much around our house these days. And we avoid John's eyes whenever possible.

● In fact we're afraid that nothing short of a lemon souffle pie from Waxman's is going to restore John's faith in human kind.

UPSY-DAISY VEGETABLE PIE
is quick to make and grand to eat

Dorothy Greig

1 tablespoon butter
3 frankfurters
1 can condensed vegetable soup
1 cup mashed potatoes

CUT the frankfurters crosswise in ¼ inch slices and then cook in the hot melted butter. Add 1 can of condensed vegetable soup, just as it comes from the can and mix well. Put the vegetable mixture into an individual pie dish. Cover with mashed potatoes, dot with butter and bake in 400° oven for 10-15 minutes. Loosen the edges of the pie with a knife and turn upside down on a plate for serving. Serves 2-4.

Single Person's Salary

Among single persons in the United States, only one out of 10 earns $2,000 a year and six out of 10 earn less than $1,000.

Football Trophy

The John W. Heisman Memorial trophy is awarded each year to the football player deemed the most valuable. It perpetuates the memory of a football coach and gridiron mentor at many colleges for 35 years. The Robert W. Maxwell trophy, also awarded to the outstanding player, is named in honor of Robert W. (Tiny) Maxwell, a former all-America player, sports writer and gridiron official. The August V. Lambert Memorial trophy, emblematic of leadership among eastern gridiron teams, was donated by Victor A. and Henry L. Lambert of New York city in memory of their father, an ardent football fan.

Gasoline Taxes

American motorists paid more than $7,000,000,000 in gasoline taxes in 19 years after the first tax of this kind was levied. This is almost as much as the federal government requires for one year's running expenses.

Ghetto in Amsterdam

Probably no Ghetto in Europe has more American visitors than the one in Amsterdam. They come to No. 41 Waterloo Plein to see where Spinoza was born, and to the house at No. 4 Jodenbree street where Rembrandt lived for 16 years.

Phosphorous Buttons

After weeks of stumbling over each other in the pitch black streets, Berliners are now wearing round buttons the size of a penny around the neck or in the button hole. Covered with phosphorous, they glow in the blackness.

Fashion Finds

Here's something new in a smart sports number for the girl who knows a good number when she sees one. Of lightweight felt available in a variety of colors, the hat has a band of grosgrain ribbon with slots to hold miniature license tags, a fad launched at several leading colleges this spring. The idea is to collect license tag numbers of boy friends, the miniature plates being obtainable in state colors from tire dealers and filling stations. This pretty girl has so many good numbers she has converted the overflow from her hat band into a costume necklace.

PICNIC DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

Dorothy Greig

Hot casserole for picnic can be kept hot if wrapped in layers of thick paper

HAPPILY the limp sandwich, warmish lemonade era in picnics is no more. Nowadays a picnic meal is as appetizing as any we eat at home.

Instead of carrying along sandwiches, we carry along the makin's, and whip our sandwiches together when and how we want them.

Hot food is no novelty either. Steaks and chops taste wonderful, broiled over an outdoor grill. A hot casserole can be carried along, bundled thickly to keep it hot, or else in the portable cooker in which it baked. Thermos bottles insure steaming hot soup or coffee.

We can even have salads, appetizingly packed in individual paper cups and chilled in the refrigerator before leaving home.

But to get back to hot food—there's the outstanding improvement in picnic meals! A stimulating hot soup or a hot dish saves the day for any picnic meal. Even men (traditionally despisers of picnic food) beam over the outdoor meal that includes hot food.

In our family, this bean and frankfurter casserole almost always goes along when we heed the call of the wide open spaces:

Casserole of Beans with Frankfurters

2 cans (16 oz.) pork and beans
1 pound frankfurters

Butter a heavy casserole and in it empty 1 can (16 oz.) pork and beans. Cut the frankfurters in half lengthwise. Arrange ½ pound of frankfurters on the beans; then add the second can of pork and beans and arrange the remaining frankfurters on top. Brush the split side of the frankfurters with melted butter. Cover and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for one hour. Serves 5-6.

To carry on a picnic: Leave cover on casserole and wrap the casserole in several thicknesses of heavy paper.

Ham and Vegetable Picnic Salad

2 cups diced celery
2 cups diced ham
1 can condensed vegetable soup
6 tablespoons salad or mayonnaise dressing

Combine the diced celery, diced ham, vegetable soup and mayonnaise. Mix and chill thoroughly. Pack into paper cups and garnish with strips of pimiento or slices of hard-cooked eggs. Serves 5.
